

Students, who are enrolled in a double major program and have not been successful in the double major program but graduated from their major program can obtain an associate degree without specifying the field if he/she also provides 120 ECTS, in addition to the 240 ECTS of the major program courses, and has successfully completed the courses of the first 2 years of the Undergraduate Double Major program.