

This badge certifies that the bearer has accomplished the following:

1. Improved knowledge of triangulating the research process.
2. Demonstrated the benefit of using figurative language as informal formative assessment to identify shortcomings and guide institutions offering online education
3. Exhibited the value of using figurative language in teacher reflection and development.
4. Gained awareness of and reflected on the lived realities of students and teachers faced with forced online education.
5. Presented this research at an international conference.
6. Wrote an academic article for publication in a Web of Science journal.